

Wright Opportunity Days

Potential business opportunities and partnerships with Air Force Research Laboratory will be the focus of Wright Opportunity Days at the Dayton Convention Center, May 17-18. The two-day conference will allow each of the five participating Wright Research Site AFRL directorates to outline plans and programs for fiscal 2005 to industry and government partners.

Cost is $250, which covers the two-day conference as well as guest speaker luncheons and an evening reception. Government attendees must complete a DD Form 1556 approved by their supervisor before registering. Agenda information and registration forms may be found at www.wrightoppdays.utcdayton.com. For more information, contact the Wright Opportunity Days registration desk at 426-2808.
